OMNIA SANITAS.

Mr. Brodriek, who, questions of policy apart, is one of the sincerest friends ever possessed by the British Army, calls attention in the "Times" to an aspect of that Army's preparation for war which is of all others the most likely to be forgotten. If Mr. Haldane or any other War Minister should succeed in raising his department above the buffeting of political faction, we may be able in the fulness of time to behold an Army competent in its size, equipment, and training to face the uttermost of national responsibilities; but Mr. Brodriek is anxious to remind us that, unless we insist on great advances in one particular branch of administration, we shall preserve a weakness that may easily cancel the whole of this brave efficiency. None but a madman would propose to send a force to war to-day with the weapons employed at Vittoria and Waterloo. But we allow our soldiers to fight under some conditions quite as antiquated as the muzzle-loader, for, as Mr. Brodriek puts it, "the regulations of the British service as to disease prevention remain substantially what they were one hundred years ago." Now, the fight which every army has to wage with disease is at least as critical and severe as that which it is called on to maintain against a human enemy. The Crimea, where 230 men per 1,000 died of disease and only 150 per 1,000 succumbed to wounds, is an old story. But South Africa is of yesterday, and its figures prove, whichever way we turn them, that warlike weapons throw an insignificant burden upon the military hospital alongside of the work with which ordinary sickness provides it. The deaths in every thousand men engaged in the Boer war were 69 from disease and 42 from wounds; 746 per 1,000 went into hospital sick, and only 34 wounded. Altogether, from first to last, 450,000 cases were passed through the hospitals owing to disease, or more than twenty times the number on whom injuries were inflicted in actual hostilities. These astonishing and little-known figures throw a significant light upon the real economies of war. They show that the purely military virtues are of little avail, if we are unable to check the inroads of a far more insidious and deadly assailant than man upon our numerical strength and combatant energy. "The unopposed crossing of the Modder river lost us from typhoid far more men than the battle of Colenso from wounds." As between two enemies of equal calibre in numbers, courage, and armament, Omnia sanitas is the supreme principle which must determine the award of victory.

If we are to believe Mr. Brodriek, this staring, we might almost say shrieking, lesson of the Boer War is still complacently unapprehended in the training of the forces. And yet we have before us not only the deplorable results of our own sanitary incapacity in South Africa, but the contrary example of what scrupulous and systematic foresight did for the Japanese in their Manchurian campaign. While the British proportion of sick to wounded was twenty to one, the ratio in Manchuria was scarcely more than four to three. Or, to put it in another light, 74 per cent. of the British Army, and only 36 per cent. of the Japanese, were disabled by those conditions of war which have nothing to do with combatant weapons, but only with the facts of sanitation, and a zealous and thorough fidelity to scientific knowledge. If our authorities have really failed to begin the application of these lessons to the training of the Army for its next ordeal, Mr. Brodriek's is a graver indictment than the most strenuous reformers have yet been able to bring against the existing system and its directors. If military hygiene remains stationary, the greater part of our recruiting energy will go merely to crowd the field hospitals of the coming war. If our officers are not qualified to test drinking water, if they are un instructed in the more obvious principles of camp location, then in our rank-and-file we are merely furnishing not indeed "food for cannon," but food for cholera, dysentery, and enteric. Mr. Brodriek complains that, while the Medical Department of the Army is, of course, proficient in these branches of knowledge, it is without any means of bringing them to bear upon the commanding and executive staff. The medical officer is allowed neither the requisite help to carry out sanitation in war nor the opportunity of educating his combatant colleagues in time of peace. And we have nothing approaching to that close and stringent hygienic discipline of the common soldier, of which the Tokyo correspondent of the "Times" furnishes so striking a description. There may be time to remedy these weaknesses before they betray us. In the ten years between their two Manchurian campaigns the Japanese made an advance in scientific methods which altered the whole complexion of their tables of casualties in the field and in the hospital. But it is a depressing thought that we have not yet put one foot before another on the path which leads from careless routine towards earnest and intelligent proficiency. ("Pall Mall Gazette.")

THOUSANDS EXPELLED THE COUNTRY

(Gazette's Special Service).

London, Thursday.

The Prussian Government has given a fortnight's notice to a thousand foreign cigarette-makers to leave German territory. Two thousand have already been expelled from Berlin. It is reported that expulsions of large numbers have taken place in other towns. There would seem to be no complaint against the character of the aliens, who are described as sober, industrious, and well-behaved.

THE RISING IN THE YEMEN.

Constantinople, June 6.

News has been received from Hodeidah denying the reported murder of the Sheikh Yahya, the leader of the insurgent tribes in the Yemen. On the contrary, it is stated that he is preparing a new movement, which is causing the authorities great uneasiness. The situation is aggravated by the great discontent which prevails among the troops, in consequence of the disorganisation of the commissariat service.

It is hoped that an agreement between masters and men will shortly be reached.

The following telegram reaches us as we are going to press:—

TRAGEDY NEAR TALA.

GRAVE OUTRAGE ON BRITISH OFFICERS.ONE KILLED AND SEVERAL WOUNDED.

The unintelligible wire which we published yesterday from our Tala Correspondent proves to have concealed a tragedy. During the route march of the Mounted Infantry from Cairo to Alexandria an affray with fellahs at Daneshawi, near Tala, in Menoufieh province, resulted in the death of a British officer, Captain Bull, of the 6th Inniskilling Dragoons, and the infliction of severe injuries on two of his comrades.

The news became generally known in Cairo yesterday afternoon and the following official communication was made last night to Reuters Agency:—

Yesterday, during a march of British troops from Cairo to Alexandria, five officers went to a village to shoot pigeons. It is understood they did so at the invitation of the omeh. They were surrounded by the villagers, deprived of their guns, and then assaulted with naboots. Captain Bull, of the Inniskilling Dragoons, died of his wounds in a few hours. Major Pine-Coffin, Mounted Infantry, had his arm broken, and Lieutenant Smithwick, Dublin Fusiliers, was badly hurt. It is reported that some of the villagers were seriously injured in the affray, but accurate details are still wanting. A judicial investigation into the facts is being held, and the matter will be dealt with by the special tribunal which was instituted in 1895 to try cases of offences against the British Army of Occupation.

We are informed this morning that one native has been found dead near the scene of the affray. Eight are reported wounded and six have been identified by the wounded officers and arrested.

The judicial investigation now proceeding is being conducted for the Ministry of Justice by the Chibin-el-Kom Parquet, while the Ministry of the Interior is represented on the spot by the Mondir of Menoufieh and Mr. Moberly, Inspector to the Ministry, with the Mamour of Tala Markaz and other local officials.

Of the details and cause of the affray nothing appears to be officially known. According to one account, the officers left the open country, where they had been shooting, and proceeded too near the village, where some tibia was accidentally set on fire and the fellahs thereupon attacked the party.

According to another version, a woman was accidentally injured, but it is believed in official circles that the injury, if any, was inflicted during the scuffle that followed the attempt of the fellahs to disarm the officers, in which shots were undoubtedly fired, but that injury to a woman caused the affray if absolutely denied.

The special Court which will try the case is composed of the Minister of Justice, the Judicial Adviser, and one of the Khedivial Counsellors, but as Sir Malcolm Melville is leaving for England on Monday, it is expected that Mr. Hayter will be the senior British member of the Court. The rôle of Deputy Judge Advocate General will be filled by Colonel Cuthbert, A.A.G. to the Army of Occupation.

One result of this tragic incident will be the prohibition of pigeon shooting on the part of British officers and officials. Several unpleasant incidents, far inferior in gravity to this last, but highly disagreeable none the less, have been caused by this in the past.

Capt. Seymour Clark-Bull was born April 28, 1875. He became a 2nd lieutenant of the (6th) Inniskilling Dragoons in October, 1899, and in June, 1900, was promoted lieutenant. It was only on the 12th April last that he was raised to the rank of captain. Captain Bull saw a great deal of active service in the South African war during 1900-1902, took part in the operations in the Orange Free State in 1900, including the actions of Vet River and Zund River, and the operations in the Transvaal in May and June 1900, including the actions near Johannesburg and Pretoria, and the famous Diamond Hill engagement of the 11th and 12th June of that year. From July to the end of November he was in the Transvaal east of Pretoria and fought at Veit River. From June, 1901, to April, 1902, he was engaged in the Transvaal and Orange River Colony, and on the conclusion of peace he received the Queen's South African Medal with four clasps.

We have received no further news as to the progress of the injured officers, who are under the charge of Captain Bostock, R.A.M.C. It is believed at Headquarters that there is no ground for apprehension as to their condition.

OTHER ACCOUNTS.

Our Tala Correspondent writes under date of Wednesday:—The Markaz authorities have been informed telephonically from Kamsheesh, a village near Tala, that four British Mounted Infantry officers and a British medical officer have been dangerously shot while engaged in shooting pigeons. The party are said to have left their tents, which they pitched at Kamsheesh, and gone to Sirsina, on the opposite side.

An old woman was shot dead and the sheikh ghafir was dangerously wounded. The Mamour, with the medical officer of the Markaz, rode off to the scene of the tragedy, where the Parquet is engaged in an enquiry.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT).

Chibin-el-Kom, Thursday.

About three p.m. yesterday a fire broke out in a street near the station at Chibin-el-Kom, and quickly spread over several houses. The Mamour, with his usual promptitude, was quickly on the spot with the local fire engine. In half an hour it was apparent that there was going to be a big blaze, and the Mamour engine came by rail to assist. A feature of the fire was the sight of Moberly Bey, Inspector of the Interior, directing affairs in a shirt and trousers, looking like a ship's fireman and doing the work of ten ordinary men.

In the midst of all the excitement news arrived by telephone from a village near Tala that there was trouble between some British soldiers and some natives, so the moment the fire was under control (about 6 p.m.) Moberly Bey and the Mondir and the Mamour set out for the affected district. They have not yet returned, but the following is the account current in Chibin:—

140 Mounted Infantry were proceeding by canal from Cairo to Alexandria. When near Tala four officers left the company and proceeded twelve miles over the fields shooting the pigeons and doves of the fellahs in spite of native protests. In addition to stealing 2 these doves and pigeons the officers, by the discharge of their guns, set fire to some corn piled in the fields and furthermore carelessly shot and killed a native woman. The ghaffirs came to take the officers but the latter shot and badly wounded the sheikh of ghaffirs. Then the natives became outraged, and setting on the officers with naboots, beat one to death and badly wounded the others.

I cannot guarantee that the above is a correct version of the incident, but it is the story which is being retailed here among the natives.

The following details of the incident are published by the "Mokattam":—

A Mounted Infantry detachment of the Army of Occupation left Cairo on Wednesday to march down to Alexandria. On their arrival at Tala Markaz, Menoufieh, the troops camped at Daneshawi, a village in that Markaz, for the night. Five officers were entertained by some of the native notables there, who invited them to go pigeon-shooting at 5 p.m., which they accepted.

A number of the natives objected to the officers shooting, as they pretended that their stores might be burned, and in the course of the discussion which ensued, they attacked the officers with naboots, killing one of them, Captain Bull, and severely wounding Major Pine-Coffin and Lieutenant Smithwick. They then set a corn store on fire.

A detachment of the troops promptly came to the officers' help, and after quelling the disorder conveyed the wounded to camp.

An attempt was made to take away the major's rifle, but in the scuffle the weapon, which was loaded for pigeon shooting, went off and a native woman was killed by the shot. The Mondir, the Chief of the Parquet, and other authorities immediately appeared on the scene and an inquiry was opened into the cause of the outrage.

FUNERAL OF VICTIM.

The funeral of the late Captain Bull will take place at the British Cemetery, Cairo, at 6.15 o'clock this evening.

THE BRITISH GARRISON.

Dealing with the recall of the 4th Battalion Worcestershire Regiment from Alexandria to Malta, the "Globe" says:—

We are bound to assume that Lord Cromer was duly advised of this coming retreat, but we gravely question whether he would have counselled it without Downing-street pressure. Our scepticism rests on substantial grounds; unless private information counts for nothing, it was not the Turkish intrusion into Egyptian territory alone that moved our Government to augment the British garrison.

There was also some degree of unrest among the native troops, and this stirring of military discontent was secretly aided by the pro-Turkish party at Cairo and Alexandria. It was not for nothing that one British battalion disembarked at the latter port, and marched through the streets by a circuitous route; European residents drew their own conclusions from that unexpected spectacle. And the anti-foreigner element in the native population—happily it has but scant proportions—will also draw its own conclusions from the desperate hurry of the English Government to diminish the expense of controlling Egypt, through the Khedive and his Ministers. To render the recall of the reinforcements all the more inopportune, news has just arrived of a sudden tribal revolt in the Farther Sudan, not far from El Obeid, the birthplace of Mahdism. That terror began, it will be remembered, in such a small way that the Cairo Government treated it with indifference. But when the False Prophet massacred several outlying Egyptian garrisons in subjection, and thus acquired prestige as the Sword of Islam, there was consternation throughout Lower Egypt, and Hicks Pasha, with his army of impressed fellahs, was hurried off to certain death in the waterless wilderness east of El Obeid.

Chane got the best of a bad start and made the running, attended by Aida and Karagioz, to the mile post, when Cheylak was sent to the front and taking up the lead, maintained it till coming out of the cutting, when he was done with, and Aida and Karagioz went ahead and raced down the straight almost neck and neck. At the polo house Aida gained the advantage and came in about two lengths ahead of Karagioz, with Chance a bad third, and René fourth. Time: 2.28.

ALEXANDRIA SPORTING CLUB.

THIRD SUMMER MEETING.

The first day's racing of the last big race meeting of the season at Alexandria took place yesterday, and was attended with a fair amount of success. Some good racing was witnessed, especially in the last race, the distance of 5 furlongs being run in the record time of 1.02 minute. The bursting of an irrigation canal and the consequent flooding of a part of the course just before the fourth race was run almost caused a serious accident. The jockeys, unaware of what had happened, plunged with their horses into what was a small lake and were badly splashed with mud, but beyond that nothing serious happened. Loulou broke a blood vessel in this race, and his jockey, Mr. G. H. Barker, was a good deal bespattered with blood. There was not a large attendance of the public, but betting was fairly animated. The following is a description of the various events:—

LIGHTWEIGHT HANDICAP of P.T. 5,000. For Arab Galloways, 2nd horse to receive P.T. 700 and 3rd horse P.T. 300 out of the stakes. Top weight not to exceed 11 stone. Distance 1 1/2 miles.

Ibrahim Bey Cherif's b.a.p. Mikado, 9.3. Parsons.

Salah Bey Yaghen's g.a.p. India, 9.4. White side.

Hussein Pasha Sioufi's b.a.h. Mashkour, 9.10. Fenwick.

Omar Bey Sultan and Ahmed Bey Bakri's g.a.h. Saia II, 9.3. Selim.

Mr. E. Karam's g.a.p. Nimrod, 10.4. Matthews.

Ibrahim Bey Cherif's b.a.h. Kordofan, 9.0. Hassan.

Khalil Pasha Khayat's g.a.p. Sadik, 9.8. Jenkins.

Khalil Pasha Khayat's g.a.p. Kawkab, 9.1. Burnham.

Isah Bey Hussein's ch.a.p. Farhan II, 10.3. Stillwell.

The field was despatched to an excellent start, though Farhan II. was slightly left. Kawkab jumped off in front from Mikado and Sadik and made the running till passing the mile post, when Mashkour went ahead and led into and out of the cutting, with Kawkab, Sadik, and Farhan II. all lying abreast behind. In the straight Mikado came through his horses and won in the smartest fashion by three lengths, a length dividing 2nd and 3rd. Time: 2.51.

Totalizer paid P.T. 176 on winner and P.T. 55, 30 and 76 for places.

SUMMER PLATE of P.T. 5,000, viz: P.T. 4,000 to winner, P.T. 700 to 2nd horse, and P.T. 300 to 3rd horse. For Arab ponies. Weight for age and inches with penalties. Distance 1 mile.

Salah Bey Yaghen's c.a.p. Shama, 9.3. White side.

Ibrahim Bey Cherif's g.a.p. Kara Aslan 9.3. Parsons.

There was some slight delay at the post. Kara Aslan got a good lead and made all the running till half-way up the straight. The pace was too hot for him however and he could not stay the distance, conceding first place to Suleik, who came with a rattle at the finish and won from Radium by a couple of lengths, a length dividing 2nd and 3rd. Kara Aslan was fourth. Time: 1.50.

Totalizer paid P.T. 56 on winner and P.T. 28, 31, and 52 for places.

OTTOMAN HANDICAP of L.E. 150; 2nd horse to receive L.E. 30, and 3rd horse L.E. 20 out of the Stakes. Handicap for Country Breds Class I. and II. Distance round the course.

Ibrahim Bey Cherif's b.l.o.b.o.l.l. Révé, 10.7. Hassan.

Chane got the best of a bad start and made the running, attended by Aida and Karagioz, to the mile post, when Cheylak was sent to the front and taking up the lead, maintained it till coming out of the cutting, when he was done with, and Aida and Karagioz went ahead and raced down the straight almost neck and neck. At the polo house Aida gained the advantage and came in about two lengths ahead of Karagioz, with Chance a bad third, and René fourth. Time: 2.28.

Totalizer paid P.T. 73 on winner and P.T. 23, 24, and 40 for places.

IBRAHIMIEH STAKES of L.E. 200; 2nd horse to receive L.E. 30 and 3rd horse L.E. 20 out of the Stakes. For Maiden (at nomination) Arab ponies. Weight for age and inches with penalties. Distance round the course.

Salah Bey Yaghen's g.a.p. Miassar, 9.9. White side.

Moharrem Pasha Chehin's g.a.p. Aeolus, 10.3. Fenwick.

Baron J. E. de Menasce's b.a.p. Viking, 10.3. Matthews.

Khalil Pasha Khayat's g.a.p. Loulou, 10.3. Jenkins.

Mr. A. J. Surock's b.h. The Bard, 10.7. Challoner.

Salah Bey Yaghen's b.a.p. Abou Arkoub, 10.7. Aly Selim.

There was some little difficulty in getting the field of ten off, but finally Kamboula jumped off with Viking and Abou Arkoub at his heels and the remainder of the field well up. After the mile post was reached Temash was sent to the front with Abou Arkoub and Nadim in close attendance. Nearing the 5-furlong post this field began to single out a little. Going into the cutting Viking, Kamboula, and Abou Arkoub were in close company, but Miassar forged ahead and led into the straight and made the rest of the running, winning by 1 1/2 lengths. Same distance between 2nd and 3rd. Abou Arkoub fourth. Time: 2.35.

Totalizer paid P.T. 50 on winner and P.T. 25, 144, and 58 for places.

ST. LEGER STAKES of L.E. 300; 2nd horse to receive L.E. 50 and 3rd horse L.E. 30 out of the Stakes. For Maiden (at nomination) Arabs. Weight for age and class with penalties. Distance 1 1/2 miles.

Mr. E. Bustron's g.a.h. Roland, 11.7. Fenwick.

Baron J. E. de Menasce's b.a.h. Caprice, 10.7. Matthews.

Mr. A. J. Michaelides' g.a.h. Jupiter, 10.7. Challoner.

Jupiter made the running with Fadghan close at his heels and the rest in a bunch behind. This order was maintained to the 3-mile post, when Fadghan went up to Jupiter and increased the pace. Then they all levelled up together, Fadghan being first to show in front out of the cutting, with Jupiter in close attendance. Roland came with a rush up the straight, passing Jupiter about 50 yards from the post, and Fadghan dying away at the finish, the distance being too much for him. Roland won in a canter by close on two lengths; half a length between 2nd and 3rd. Jupiter fourth. Time: 2.51.

Totalizer paid P.T. 126 on winner and P.T. 48, 34, and 31 for places.

ENCOURAGEMENT STAKES presented by H.H. Prince Mohamed Ibrahim of P.T. 5,000, viz: P.T. 4,000 to winner and P.T. 1,000 to 2nd horse. For horses Classes 1, 2, 3 and Country Breds Class I. Weight for age with penalties. Distance 5 furlongs.

NOTES ET CRITIQUES

Le Caire, Jeudi 14 Juin.
Le taux de l'escompte libre à Londres se maintient à 3 1/2 pour cent.
Hier, au Stock Exchange, le Consolidé anglais a baissé de non moins de 1/4 de livre à 88 7/8. Par contre, l'Unité a gagné 1/4 à 104 1/2. La National Bank, l'Agricole, la Daira et la Delta Light sont renseignées invariables à leurs cours précédents.
A Paris, l'action Crédit Foncier Egyptien a réactionné de 2 francs à 772. La Banque d'Athènes a perdu 3 francs à 154 et les Lots turcs 1 franc à 147.

Notre marché a été aussi calme que celui d'hier. Toutefois, la tendance générale a été meilleure. Il y a eu même, par moments, quelque peu d'animation sur l'Agricole, la Banque d'Orient, les Estates et les Nungovich.

La National Bank, délaissée, a moli à 25 1/2 à 9 1/16. L'Agricole a été demandé à 92 1/2 à 11/16. La Cassa di Sconto s'est maintenue à 210 211 l'action ancienne et 208 la nouvelle. La Banque d'Orient a progressé à 128. Quoique renseignée en baisse de 3 francs à Paris, la Banque d'Athènes a conservé ici son prix d'hier, soit 156 francs.

L'action Crédit Foncier a réactionné de 2 francs à 772 ; les obligations à lots nouvelles ont avancé à 272. La Daira a perdu 1/16 à 17 1/16. La Béhéra s'est raffermie à 36 1/16. L'Immobilier a été ramené à 380, l'Entreprise and Development à 11 15/16, l'Agricole du Nil à 262, l'Improvement Corporation à 4 11/16 3/4 et l'Union Foncière à 3 16/14. L'action de capital Baux du Caire s'est inscrite à 117 et la Jouissance à 259.

Dans le groupe des Hôtels, les Nungovich ont été demandés à 15 3/16-1/4. L'action ancienne et 15 1/8 la nouvelle. Les Baehler ont été négociés à 5 3/16-1/4 et l'Anglo-American Nile à 5.

Parmi les petites valeurs, les Delta Land ont été plus fermes à 3 27/32-7/8. Les Estates ont avancé à 1 5/8, les Egyptian Constructors à 15/32, les Oasis à 1 1/8 et les Markets à 26 sh. 6.

Les Sucreries ont faibli à 21-22 et les Salt and Soda à 20 sh. 9.

D'après toutes les probabilités l'assemblée extraordinaire de la Corporation des agents qui se tiendra cet après-midi votera la cessation d'affaires à la Bourse Khédiviale du Caire pour les samedis pendant la durée de la saison d'été.

Nous détachons d'une lettre de Londres, en date du 7 Juin, le passage suivant :

"La situation monétaire continue à troubler la quiétude du monde des affaires. Malgré quelques changements en mieux qui se sont produits ces temps derniers, nous en sommes presque au même point qu'à la fin d'Avril, et le taux de l'escompte libre reste toujours à 3 1/2 pour cent par suite de la menace que la Banque d'Angleterre tient suspendue au-dessus de nos établissements de crédit pour le cas où, gagné par une trop grande confiance dans l'avenir, ils se relâcheraient de leur vigilance et accueilleraient trop facilement le papier escomptable."

"Accalmie complète au Stock Exchange, où le manque d'ordres persiste et où les quelques transactions que l'on note s'effectuent dans le vide. Les rangs de nos boursiers s'éclaircissent de plus en plus et les opérations tendent à se réduire à des proportions minimes, avec tendance à la faiblesse."

Il résulte du rapport du Conseil d'administration présenté à la 28ème assemblée générale ordinaire de l'Alexandria Water Co. tenue le 11 Juin courant, au siège social à Alexandrie, que la balance du compte Profit et Perte pour l'exercice se terminant le 31 Mars 1906 est de £41,035.18.0.

Les administrateurs ont proposé de fixer à 8 sh. par action le coupon du 15 Juin 1906, ce qui, avec le dividende intérimaire payé le 15 Décembre 1905, porte le dividende total de l'exercice à 10 sh 6 par action.

L'assemblée a accepté à l'unanimité les résolutions du Conseil. Elle a ensuite rédigé MM. A. C. Zervadachi et E. Cornish, administrateurs sortants.

Carnet de l'actionnaire.
Les actionnaires de la Daira Sanieh Sugar Corporation Ltd, sont informés qu'un dividende de 3 sh. par action sera payé, sous déduction de l'impôt-tax, aux bureaux de MM. Glynn, Mills, Currie and Co., à Londres, à partir du 15 courant, contre présentation du coupon No. 5 des titres au porteur.

"THE SPHINX CLUB."

A NOVEL BANQUET.

Yesterday we gave a brief account of the "Sphinx Dinner" held in London last week. The following is from the "Tribune":
For the first time in its history, ladies were admitted to the secrets of the Sphinx Club last night, when that influential combination of advertising experts marked the importance of the event with revelry.

The banquet hall of the Hotel Cecil suggested a show-room in the Rue de la Paix. Beautiful wax models displayed the latest triumphs of Parisian fashion; a judicious blending of silken hosiery and La France roses formed the original table decorations; the pyramids of Cleopatra's Needle were garlanded with flowers; and the imposing figure of the Sphinx, the presiding deity at these gatherings, looked quite skittish in a white ostrich boa and the newest thing in parasols. The brethren of the Sphinx had arranged a succession of surprises for the benefit of their fair guests.

"The Sphinx," gave the chairman, Mr. John Morgan Richards, after the diners had appreciated the novel delights of a menu which began with ovettes à la cravattes and included filets de sole au Japon Rose, and Aigrettes d'Asperges. Then the electric lights were lowered, and in a dim Egyptian atmosphere the ladies drank the toast of their host with enthusiasm. The eyes of the Sphinx gleamed greenly as the gratified deity broke the silence of the centuries, and from its inner regions replied in a fine megaphone tenor with "Oh! the girls, the lovely girls!"

PROCESSION OF EGYPTIAN "SLAVES."
The music from the gallery grew slow and dreamy as a procession of gawky-skinned Egyptian "slaves," wafting palm leaves, slowly filed before the mysterious Sphinx and passed round the tables, leaving the guests in possession of the Sphinx—the monthly journal of the club.

The Chairman called upon Mrs. T. P. O'Connor, who thought it was well to be definite in advertising, but deprecated the prevalence of geographically-named garments, such as the Suez Canal Skirt, and the Banstead Blouse. As an alternative, she proposed musical and mythological descriptions. The Stradivarius Blouse would induce a study of music, and she predicted popularity for the Mercury stocking, the Venus bathing suit, and the Education Bill sweater.

The eccentric evening's amusement wound up fittingly with a grand procession of goddesses from D. H. Evans and Co., who paid homage to the Sphinx in handsome model gowns.

A charming vision in scintillating emerald green was the first to ascend the dais. It was the latest thing in sequin evening robes, mounted on silk, explained the representative of D. H. Evans, and bore the unmistakable stamp of the Rue de la Paix. An Asot gown in pink and white chiffon, also straight from the fountain-head of fashion, a wild-rose trimmed hat, with flying green velvet ribbons, and a pink ostrich feather boa constituted the ravishing toilette of the lady who succeeded her.

CAPE-CAIRO RAILWAY.

The head of the Cape to Cairo Railway is (a Capetown message reports) now at a point 360 miles to the north of Victoria Falls, and is within sixteen miles of Broken Hill. The telegraph is working to this point.

UNREST IN ABYSSINIA.

The "Temps" reports that news from the interior of Abyssinia points to a certain unrest prevailing there. Since the death of Ras Makonnen, the Empress Tai-Tu has become all powerful. In connection with this, it may be mentioned that an Abyssinian woman from Tigré, who is married to a German in Palestine, has insinuated herself into the Empress's confidence, under the pretext of furnishing the Empress with information about Jerusalem and the Holy Places, the Empress being very pious. This woman has been working on behalf of the Germans, and the reception accorded to the German and Germano-Syrian workmen is largely due to her efforts.

A telegram from Djibouti to the same journal says that 40 Germans and Syrians belonging to the German missions in Palestine have just arrived at Shoa. They are described as expert in certain manual trades. A second group of immigrants, led by the son of a Galla woman and a German pastor, is shortly to follow. This information as to the extension of German influence in Ethiopia is corroborated by the news, also sent by the correspondent of the "Temps," that since Ras Makonnen's death the Germans have been able to recover a good deal of indirect authority at the Court of the Negus through the medium of the Empress Tai-Tu, who is omnipotent.

THE WOMEN OF SPAIN.

In an article in the "Nineteenth Century" on "The Joys of Spain," Mr. Austin Harrison gives an account of the women of Spain that at present should interest English readers. After remarking that Spain is noted for the beauty of the women, he says: And what women more adorable than those of Spain, so proud, so simple, so radiantly feminine? As a type the Spanish woman of the South is unique. "L'Andalouse," who does not know Musset's tribute to her? She is small and slender, exquisitely proportioned, with tiny, but beautifully shaped hands and feet. Her head, poised proudly on a torso of classical symmetry, is small, and her hair is black and crisp of the bluish small tint peculiar to the raven. Her face is oval, such as Ruskin admired, finely chiselled, frank and childlike; her lips are full, red and pouting; and her nose is slightly aquiline, hill nervous, quivering nostrils. Her eyes are the mirror of her soul; almond shaped, somewhat like a Circassian woman's dark, lustrous, pensive, and passionate; now flashing like open globes of fire, now dreamily closing as if in sadness. Her laughter is even on the surface, merry, rippling, infectious, but her tears are never far distant too. Her grace of carriage and deportment is the glory of her race. In her white lace shawl and the flowers of Spain in her hair she is quite irresistible, yet no prouder creature exists, nor less coquettish a nature. Her love consumes her, and she would no more smoke a cigarette than she would play hockey or golf. She is simple as a bird, wayward and capricious as a child; sincere, for she does not know what it is to be insincere. If she cannot read and write much, she can dance as no other woman can. When she loves she will die for you, but when she hates she will slay you with a glance as keen as any dagger.

The Spanish woman has no Greek. She blooms and withers like a wild flower. At an age when most girls in England are in the school-room the Spanish girl is already a woman. From childhood upwards she possesses a novio, or suitor, for her hand. It is a Spanish institution. The Hidalgo courts his Dulcinea to-day as he did of old; with twang of guitar singing or sighing to his novia-elect under latticed window or more favourable balcony, or whispering softly to her as she rises from mass, or cooing behind her as she walks abroad. But she is ever demure, coy, and elusive. Kisses are no cheap commodities in Spain. No love so proud as a Spanish girl's. No courting more ardent or assiduous than a young Spaniard's.

Oriental usage with regard to women still prevails in Spain, where there are no suffragettes, and no problems of sex. Even in society in Madrid men do not pay afternoon calls on married women, the chief form of entertainment being the evening party, or tertulia. The jealousy of Spaniards of both sexes is notorious. The Eastern habit of secluding their women is still prevalent among most Spaniards. Hence the illiteracy of the women, the tiresome formality of Spanish functions, the conventionality of society manners.

NEMI BRONZES FOR ROME.

The National Museum in the Baths of Diocletian has, the "Tribune" states, received a magnificent addition in the old Roman bronzes submerged in the Lake of Nemi for nearly 2,000 years and brought to the surface in October 1895. These have been placed in a small upper room, which has just been opened to the public. Most of the exhibits are ornaments taken from the two Tiberian ships which it is hoped one day to raise from the depths of the lake. Chief in importance is a splendid Medusa. A strongly-modelled arm and hand in the true archaic style is also of extreme interest, while the lion, hyena, and wolf heads, with rings pendant, are wonderful specimens of their kind. Some remains of the old timber work, thickly studded with giant nails, are also included in the collection. Signor Borghi, to whose enterprise the recovery of these gems of ancient art is due, was offered £12,000 for the collection by the New York Museum. The provisions of the Pacea law, however, stood in the way of exportation, and the whole of the objects were acquired by the Italian nation for £5,040.

MERCHANTMEN AND THE NAVAL MANOEUVRES.

A number of Liverpool steamers are to take part in the naval manoeuvres. The Admiralty have agreed to indemnify owners for any loss arising out of delay or damage consequent on complying with the orders of naval officers. It is anticipated that in all 400 vessels will take part in these movements, which will extend from Great Britain to Gibraltar and to the South Atlantic. Outward-bound merchantmen will call at Milford Haven or Falmouth and the homeward-bound at Gibraltar. From these ports they will make the passage in company with other vessels or otherwise as may be deemed expedient by the senior naval officer. They may be despatched in groups of twelve or less. For the coaling of the fleet at sea about thirty steamers have been chartered, and about 100,000 tons of coal purchased.

THE STATUTES COMPLETED.

The International Committee charged to draw up the statutes of the State Bank of Morocco has terminated its labours. M. Pallain for his graceful hospitality, his courtesy, and impartiality. He was pleased that Paris had been selected as the place of meeting of the Council of the Administration of the Bank.

AMERICA'S AFRICAN TRADE.

A bulletin of the Department of Commerce and Labour announces that the trade of the United States with Africa in the fiscal year 1905 aggregated about $8,000,000, of which $2,266,600 was in imports and the remainder in exports. The trade with Africa amounted to $10,200,000 in 1903, having risen from $6,100,000 in 1900. The decrease in exports to Africa is held to be a reflection of the general reduction in imports into that continent since 1903.

YACHTING AT ALEXANDRIA.

We understand that an order has been placed with Messrs. Dixon Bros. and Hutchinson for a new 1-rater. The boat is well under weigh and should be out in a few weeks. She is to be up-to-date in every respect. Her name is Iris II. She will be sailed every Wednesday by Mr. James Carroll Wilcocks.

Iris I. is down from Cairo having a thorough refit, and will be ready for Wednesday next. There seems to be a keen racing spirit abroad. We hear rumours of a 2 1/2-rater and 5-rater. We shall soon have a mosquito fleet, and we think it is quite time to give the 1-raters a class to themselves.
